PRIMARY LAW IN COUNTIES.

The Law in Regard to Candidates Running for County Offices How Their Names Are Placed on Primary Tickets.

Under the law providing for party nominations by direct vote, approved March 18, 1907, all candidates for elective offices must be nominated by a primary held at the regular polling places of each precinct on the first Tuesday of August, 1908, and every two years thereafter. This law does not apply to special elections to fill vacancies, nor to the office of county superintendent of schools, nor to city officers not elected at a general state election, nor to town, village and school district officers.

At least sixty days before each August primary the secretary of state notifies the county clerk of each county that candidates are to be nominated for designated offices. Within ten days after receiving such notice the county clerk publishes it in two papers in the county. This publication must appear once a week for six weeks, and is for the purpose of notifying the voters of the county that nominations are in order.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

There are two ways in which a person desiring to run for the party nomination for a county office may have his name printed on the official ballot used at the primary.

First. He may file with the county clerk a declaration, giving his residence and stating that he is a candidate for the nomination for such office at the hands of some designated political party.

This declaration should be filed at least sixty days before the first Tuesday in August preceding the general election.

Second. Or a nomination paper in behalf of the candidate may be filed with the county clerk at least sixty days prior to the first Tuesday in August.

This nomination paper should have the specified form in the primary law written or printed at the top of each separate sheet. The signatures on a sheet which does not have this form at the top thereof will not be counted. Each signer of a nomination paper shall sign but one such paper for the same office. All signers of each separate nomination paper for a county office must reside in the same precinct; so that there must be a separate nomination paper for each precinct in which signatures are sought. Each signer must sign his name and residence or street number and the date of signing.

Nomination papers for county offices must be signed by at least three per cent of the voters of the party of the candidate in at least one sixth of the election precincts of the county and in the aggregate by not less than three per cent nor more than ten per cent of the total vote of his party in such county. The basis of percentage is the vote of the party for the presidential election.

Each candidate must file with his nomination paper or papers a declaration that he will qualify as such officer if nominated and elected. When nomination papers are received which contain ten per cent of the party vote the clerk will not receive further nomination papers for the same candidate.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

As to candidates for the office of representative to the general assembly of Missouri, section 9 of the new law has the following:

"Provided that the office of representative to the general assembly of Missouri shall be regarded as a county office under the provisions of this act." Therefore the procedure governing in the nomination of county officers would apply to the case of representatives to the assembly.

VACANCIES.

Vacancies occurring after the primary are filled by the party committee of the county, district or state, as the case may be.

COUNTY COMMITTEES.

County committees are elected at the August primary election. No nomination is necessary. Each voter may write in the space left on his ticket for that purpose, the name of one qualified elector of the ward or township, as the case may be, for his ward or county committee, and the one having the greatest number of votes in such ward or township shall be the member of the party committee in such county.

THE BALLOT.

There must be as many separate tickets as there are parties entitled to participate, and also a non-partisan ticket for non-partisans, who are properly nominated for the primary.

The names are printed on the ticket alphabetically, according to the surnames, under the title of the respective offices. A candidate cannot have his name printed on more than one ticket; he must indicate in writing on what ticket he wishes to have his name.

CHALLENGES.

The party committee of each party may appoint in writing over their signatures two party representatives at each precinct, with one alternate for each, who shall act as challengers for their respective parties, and have the power prescribed by law as in general elections.

VOTING.

Each qualified voter shall be entitled to receive from the judges of election one ballot of the political party participating in such election for which he desires to vote. The two judges of election having charge of the ballot with their names or initials on the back of each ballot with indelible pencil, and also the number of the ballot voted. No other writing shall be placed on the back of the ballot.

If any voter writes upon his ticket the name of a person who is a candidate for the same office upon some other ticket, this ballot will be counted for such person only as a candidate of the party upon which ticket his name is written, and shall in no case be counted for such person as a candidate upon any other ticket.

(The above is that part of the primary law that refers to the election of county officers. For state officers it is much the same with the exception that the secretary of state takes the place of the county clerk. Save this for future reference. Every voter should know the primary law.)

Staying Home.

Secretary Strauss has reported to the President that for the month of January the total Japanese immigration to this country, including Hawaii, was 971 as compared with 5,000 for January, 1907. This remarkable decrease is not all due to the activity of Japan, for immigration of all foreigners during the same period has fallen off 50 per cent, but there is no doubt of Japan's earnest desire to remove the one cause for friction between the two countries, and it is believed the first fruits of her new policy are largely reflected in the figures furnished by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

Right Side Up.

Railroad companies are liable for damages to freight caused by disregarding the consignor's shipping directions, printed on the goods, according to the New York court of appeals. The plaintiff sued to recover for injury to a number of electric batteries. On the boxes were printed the words: "This side up," and it was shown that the injury resulted from the failure of the freight handlers to observe this caution. The company claimed it was not liable because such instructions were no longer observed and that more sufficient notice should have been given, but the court took a different view of the question, and very properly it would seem.

THE SILENT REAPER.

ELDER WILLIAM R. ADAMS.

Who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs C. S. Henry, 1305 Donovan street, Bellingham, Washington, Feb'y 21, 1908, was born in Shelby county, Indiana, May 13, 1830, being at his death, 77 years, 9 months and 8 days old. On Oct. 7, 1852, he was married to Miss Rachel Moore, of Shelby county, Indiana. They removed to Buchanan county, Missouri, soon after the civil war, and made their home there until his wife died about twelve years ago. About four years ago Elder Adams became afflicted with blood poison and suffered the loss of one of his lower limbs, and has been in poor health since then. Two years ago he went to the home of his daughter in Bellingham for his health. In October last, he was taken sick with his last illness lingering on the shores of time until Feb'y 21, 1908, when he departed, to be with his Lord in His eternal home.

He leaves eight children: J. R. Adams, of Perry, California; O. P. Adams, of Goldfield, Nev.; J. Q. Adams, of Kansas City; W. E. Adams, Burnham, Mo.; Mrs. V. B. Hahn, of Oregon; Mo.; Mrs. C. L. Hahn, of Forest City, Mo.; and Mrs. C. L. Henry, of Bellingham, Washington; and Mrs. C. W. Barge, of Battle Mountain, Nevada; also two sisters, Mrs. Emily Shirley, of Atchison, Kansas, and Mrs. Eliza Lyons, of Forest City, Mo.; and a brother, Martin Adams, of Corvallis, Oregon.

The remains were brought to St. Joseph and laid to rest. The funeral services were conducted by Elder W. H. Hardman, of Forest City, from the Meirhofer undertaker parlors, assisted by Rev. A. A. Thomas, of St. Joseph. Rev. Adams was a faithful and earnest Christian minister, and is resting now from his labors.

As the time of his departure drew near he relapsed into semi-unconsciousness from which he revived just before the end came, called his grand-daughter to sing "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Joining them in the last song his soul winged its flight to the Home beyond. As his ears heard the last strains of the earthly, they caught the echoes of the heavenly uniting him with the eternal choir. As I contemplate the scene by the eye of Faith, I can see him as he meets Jesus and receives his welcome. How happy the veteran of the long war with sin, and how sweet to him is the invitation of the King, "Enter into the joys of thy Lord. Thou hast been faithful over few things, I will make thee ruler over many. Enjoy the rest that remains to the People of God."

W. H. HARDMAN, V. D. M.

Craig and Vicinity.

—During the past week Mrs. S. A. Bond has been seriously ill at her home in St. Joseph. Her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Kellogg, attended her during a portion of the time.

—James Allen, of Schulte Lake, has begun the erection of a $2,000 frame barn—40x60 feet ground plan and two stories in height. J. P. Fryman is laying a concrete foundation for the structure this week.

—Beginning with March 1 the morning service of electricity ceased. From now on the service will be as follows: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, until 11 p. m.; Saturday, until 12 midnight, and Sunday until 10:30 p. m.

—Eight hundred and fifty fat hogs have been shipped during the past two weeks by Ben Pearce. All were natives. The majority were Poland-China grades, although Berkshires, Durocs and Chester Whites were represented.

—John Johnson and family and Luke Heits and family, left Tuesday last with several chartered cars over the Burlington for Beatrice, Nebraska. Both families took their household effects, farming implements, cows, horses and mules and will engage in farming near Beatrice.

—Nearly $11,000 cash was realized at the horse and mule sale on the L. B. Strickler farm, conducted by H. T. Chrisman and J. H. Young. Mares averaged $180 per head, geldings $151, and mules $170. Col. Chrisman informs us that not an animal sold for a dollar more than it was worth, to his knowledge while there was not a sacrifice sale in the entire lot.

—The case of Albert Wells, of South Dakota, vs. Fred Tieman, H. E. Tieman and A. O. Dankers, of Corning, was tried in Squire Randall's court Wednesday, before a jury which returned a verdict of $246.26 for the plaintiff. This was the amount asked for and is the balance (with interest) due on a $1,000 note originally owned by S. J. Schultz. The defendants are expected to appeal to the circuit court.

Opened to Settlement.

14,000 acres government land in Wyoming. The Shoshone irrigation enterprise in the Big Horn Basin of Wyoming on which the United States government is spending $4,000,000 is being rapidly completed.

What is known as the Corbett Tunnel, 17,000 feet long has just been completed and through it, what is known as the Garland Government canal will supply water this spring to 14,000 acres of public land. This land is open to homestead entry under the usual rules modified by the provisions of the Reclamation Act. Continuous residence is required and practically nothing is charged for the land, the government merely charging the settler his pro rata share of the cost to the government of the irrigation works.

In this particular project this amounts to $45.00 an acre, and the settler is expected to pay $1.50 an acre per year and has ten years in which to pay the full amount. These terms are very favorable especially when it is remembered that no interest is charged by the government on the deferred payments.

The government has prepared plans showing the location and size of each of the farm units, any one of which the settler may select.

This land is located along the Shoshone river in the heart of the Big Horn Basin, which lies between the Big Horn mountains on the east and the main range of the Rockies on the west, with connecting mountain ranges north and south. The situation is well sheltered, the climate is fine and the soil is rich as any in America, and produces abundant crops of
